Mr. Mallory is for Men and Money.

We invite particular attention to a communication which we print this morning giving Mr. MALLORY's answers, in his own words, to some interrogatories relative to the issues before the people of this district and the country.

It will be seen that Mr. MALLORY ignores the solemn, formal acts of ten millions of freemen in the eleven seceded States—that he regards their declarations of independence, to which their lives, their fortunes, and their sacred honor are pledged, as so much waste paper; that he regards Virginia, Tennessee, Louisiana, and the other States of the Southern Confederacy as members yet of the old Union—and that he regards Mr. LINCOLN as still the President of the States and the people who have chosen General Davis as the Chief Executive officer of their Government.

Had he lived in England, he would not have recognized the Independence of the United States of America—he would have continued to claim them as English provinces—he would have continued the war against the colonies for twelve years, for the defense of the British Crown!

As it is, ignoring that solemn declaration of our own State Constitution—"That all power is inherent in the people, and all free Governments are founded on their authority, and instituted for their peace, safety, happiness, and the protection of property." For the administration of these rights, they have, at all times, an inalienable and indefeasible right, after reform, or abolish their Government, in such manner as they may think proper—ignoring this solemn declaration, common to the Constitutions of all the States, he desires to the people of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Alabama, Georgia, Florida, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas, and Tennessee a right, which it is affirmed is "inalienable and indefeasible," and insists on treating them as rebels and traitors, for such they are if LINCOLN is yet their rightful President.

He is, however, not seen in your paper, a notice of an Union sermon, preached on Sunday evening last, in the Ringold street Church, in the city, by Rev. W. H. Bell, in which the flag of the confederate was displayed as the flag of the Union and a picture of Washington. The pastor, in his parting address, said, "the main object to the powers that be, is the service of the Union, and a well merited chastisement of the South."—Wharton & Bennett keep always on hand a very large assortment of cabinet furniture of every description at wholesale and retail, cheap for cash. Their motto is quick sales and small profits. Recollect the Nos. 303 and 304, Market street, between Second and Third.

Hardee's Tactics,

THE ONLY COMPLETE

SOUTHERN EDITION,

CONTAINING over 50 pages additional matter, to Col. R. Hardee's Manual, Manual adapted for the use of the Armies of the South.

It is the only manual of its kind in the South.

It is estimated that the maintaining of the Federal army now costs $1,000,000 per day.

It is the duty of continuing this army to the Government and the capitol!

Mr. MALLORY knows that LINCOLN

used a power delegated only to the Congress in declaring the war, he knows that almost every step taken in its prosecution has been over an outraged Constitution and broken laws, he knows that the Administration has wholly subverted the Government, and established in its stead

a shadowy one, which it is not difficult to sustain.

But Mr. MALLORY thinks this is a war

for the defense of the Government and the capitol.

When was the Capitol in danger? When it was menaced? Not before LINCOLN's proclamation—not before LINCOLN declared war; and consequently the protection of the Capitol is not one of the objects of the war. If the Capitol should fall into the hands of the Southern Confederacy, it will only be in consequence of the necessity of driving the invaders of Virginia from the border of that State;

and this Mr. MALLORY is so credulous! Is it possible that he believes the Government can be defended only by entirely subverting and destroying it?

He may be in earnest, but he cannot convince the public of his sincerity. If he is in earnest, he is not a fit man to represent an intelligent people in the Congress; if he is not in earnest, he is unworthy to represent them.

But Mr. MALLORY thinks this is a war

for the defense of the Government and the capitol.

The truth is, that, due to the wall by his Lincoln's proclamation, determined to support the Administration, in a course which he is infatuated, he was bold and impudently attempted to justify his position upon grounds which are, in fact, at variance with the recorded facts, and of course untenable.

In the declaration of war, Mr. LINCOLN stated the objects of the war; and in the proclamation, Mr. MALLORY is well aware that there is no reference to a defense of either the Government or the Capitol—the object of the war was stated by Mr. LINCOLN to be, "to suppress the combinations" in the seceded States, and to cause the laws of the United States to be executed in them.

Of this proclamation declar ing war, calling into the field a vast army, and setting forth the objects of this extraordinary step, the Louisville Journal of the 15th of April, said:

"Since writing the paragraphs above, the telegraphic report of the President's proclamation has reached us. We are struck with mingled amazement and indignation. The policy announced in the proclamation, the following cases have been reported cured:

"General Davy. Six persons have been cured of General Davy.

"68 persons have been cured of Nervous Davy.

TUESDAY MORNING JUNE 18.

BOATS LEAVING TO-DAY.

For Particulars see Steamboat Advertisements.

MAJOR ANDERSON, Cincinnati, Florence, St. Louis.
DILIGENCE, Cocco, Louisville.

ARRIVALS.—June 17.
Major Anderson, Capt. Eugene, Henderson, Gray Eagle, Louisville.

DEPARTURES.

Major Anderson, Capt. Eugene, Henderson, Gray Eagle, Louisville.

The RIVER is flowing very fast, with 5 feet 4 inches water in the channel, and is swelling. The weather was clear and quite cool for the season.

At Cincinnati and Pittsburg the river was at its height yesterday, with only four feet water in the channel at the latter port. That is coming down to a low ebb, almost as low as it was at the time of the flood.

The RIVER at St. Louis is falling steadily, and all the upper tributaries and the Missouri are falling too, and the navigation in that quarter will soon be much retarded.

Leopold The St. Louis Democrat, the Abolition paper in that subtitled city, writes very flippantly in regard to the conduct of the slaves, and calls the Lincoln troops "the loyalists." The better name would be "tory royalists," or cow boys.

Leopold Diligent is the accommodation packet to-day as far as Evansville. She starts at 3 o'clock, from Portland, taking freight and passengers to Rock Haven, Leavesport, New Albany, and Owensboro, also at all other points.

The agent is our clever young friend Mann Sauterwein, and all orders left at No. 20, Wicks & Co., Cincinnati, where he said official may get a burr in his ear for his interference.

MORE GUNS.—Among the receipts by the mail, Dr. U.S. Grant, of Cincinnati, was a lot of seven cases of guns, or mouskets, marked "J. Harlan, Jr., Frankfort, Ky." They bore date of 1828.

Leopold It is as Cincinnati running load for St. Louis.

A CHASE AND CAPTURE.—The Masonic Gem that arrived from Carrollton last night, was chased by the Priores from Madison to Carrollton's Landing, where they came along side and took up a lot of fifty cases of tobacco. It appears that the Geod had landed at Madison where she received a lot of forty cases of tobacco for the post office. After a short chase, the last time it was noticed that the Priores, crowded with people, was in chase. The Masonic Gem landed at Carrollton's, where the Priores took up alongside, and the mob law party on board seized upon the bacon and ham. It back to Madison in hot haste. This rather singular proceeding in the eyes of all parties concerned. Some people, however, would consider the proceeding as a great outrage upon free trade and rights, but might makes right these Lincolns times.

ADMISSION PERMITS.—The Lincoln Collector of Customs at Cincinnati is a chap of whom I have heard little. He appears from his testimony before a committee a case of alleged smuggling, that he has been in the habit of late of granting some fifty permits per day to vessels to make small shipments to Kentucky, Missouri and Virginia. The price of each permit is twenty cents. So this patriotic (?) official agent also makes a good profit by an extra steamer from the effects of the Black Republican Government.

CINCINNATI AND PITTSBURG STANDARD.—Many of the soldiers of the Cincinnati volunteers at Cincinnati have heretofore been engaged in steaming on our Southern rivers. Guthrie, the Col. of the regular First Kentucky Regiment, has been a volunteer engineer; Royston, the Lieut. Col. is also a Cincinnati volunteer, having been at one time captain of the 1st and 2nd Regiments, in both the 1st and 2nd Ohio Cavalry; Bar Leader, the Major of the same regiment, is a Pittsburgher, having been in command of several boats, and the owner and captain of the steamer "Cincinnati." George Barr, clerk of the St. Cloud, is Quarter-master, and his brother Sam, Barr, Jr., Lieut. of a company. Dave Dryden, Lieut. of the 1st Illinois, is also a Cincinnati volunteer.

The Second Regiment, is well represented by the tad pole boatmen, in fact, the officers and men of this regiment are principally from the West. The 1st and 2nd Regiments, now laid up at Cincinnati and Pittsburg, and these Cincinnati chaps are fighting for Old Abe under the banner of Kentucky.

South again, they can claim the honor of having fought in the Kentucky regiments.

The Commercial was the only boat at the landing last evening.

RECEIPTS BY THE RIVER.—Embracing only the Loading Articles of Import.

CINCINNATI.—Per Major Anderson—46 packages, 8 A. & Jones—250 kegs bacon, Marsh & Balter & Co.—1,250 bundles paper, Dupont & Co.—1,000 boxes tobacco, Wicks & Co.—11 boxes tobacco, 100 boxes flour, 2 boxes lemon, 11 boxes sugar, 100 boxes rice, 200 eggs, 57 packages sundries, consignees.

DIED.

In St. Louis, on the evening of the 14th inst., Mrs. Isaac Smith, the only child of Joseph and Dr. Thos. E. Jenkins.
